

“Remember, Remember, Remember”

Poem by Kylie Madsen, Branch #61 Delta

Remembrance Day, a Day to Remember,
A day for each member,
Who fought before us so we could Remember.

Remember the poppies,
The fields where they grow,
Symbols of sacrifice from long ago.

Remember the people,
The people so brave,
Who gave their lives so ours could be saved.

Remember the fights,
Fought in our towns,
The struggles, the losses, and all the loud sounds.

Remember the fallen,
Though some made it through,
Their stories remind us of what they went through.

Remember this day,
With our heads down low,
To honour their bravery and peace that we now know.

Remember love,
Remember peace,
Remember, Remember, Remember.
